Her people call themselves Avix, her name is Quixakol (pronounced Kixakol). She is a chronicler (part archivist, part "anthropologist", "database"-memory). Natural form is birdlike, on top of head and between eyes feathers change color with mood. Natural defense: sound. Shapeshifters, observation/knowledge of "target-creature", face can shift immediately.

Quixakol looks cockatoo-like, hummingbird-flight, about 1.10 m. Part of delegation including emissary (stuffy, older), security her age, otherwise her opposite. Curious, outgoing and friendly, connects information instinctively. Used to a hierarchical society with well-defined roles. Gets nervous and needs time to acclimate to other forms of decision making. Talking to those with other cultural backgrounds helps to better understand and use information. Found unexpected allies and became a leader but doesn't like her new social status.
